

Security Training

for short-term workers

Assemblies of God World Missions (AGWM) leadership requires all individuals involved in short-term work to prepare for the elevated risk of travel abroad by completing a brief online training.

Short-term workers is a broad term that includes those serving with MAPS, short-term minister abroad, or short-term visitor abroad assignments as well as short-term teams/individuals, interns, pastors, and other visitors.

AGWM supplies the necessary online security training. These training courses will provide information to increase awareness of the unique challenges you may encounter, including safety and security tips and tools designed to protect you, your teammates, and those you are called to serve.

Security training is required for all trip participants. We've included a checklist to help you keep track of where you're at in the security training process. Please click the links below to begin:
